Three parents we talk to

This is our best guess from competitor and parent research. We have no NXT customers yet, so check it against the first 20–30 leads.

MAIN

Jelena, 36

Mila, 8 · 1–4. razred

Wants screens under control

WANTS

Her kid making something instead of scrolling.

WORRY

„Zar to nije još jedan ekran?“

SAY

„Manje skrolovanja. Više stvaranja.“

Ads: Less scrolling · Open Day

MAIN

Marko, 42

Luka, 11 · 5–8. razred

Thinks ahead

WANTS

AI used for thinking, not for copying homework.

WORRY

„Je l’ to ozbiljno ili samo igrice?“

SAY

„Pitaj, proveri, poboljšaj — ti odluči.“

Ads: Svet se menja · AI

SECOND

Ivana, 39

Sara, 10 · any grade

Has a quiet kid

WANTS

Her kid to find a voice, in Serbian and in English.

WORRY

„Već ide na engleski.“

SAY

„Engleski bez straha.“

Ads: English

Does the child’s age change the message? Yes, mostly in who decides.

Parent decides alone — Teen can say no

1–2. razred

Parent decides alone

SAY

Play, make things, friends

AVOID

AI, careers

3–4. razred

Parent decides; the kid’s excitement counts

SAY

Less scrolling, before the first phone

AVOID

Tech jargon

5–6. razred

Parent and kid decide together

SAY

AI as a tool, real projects

AVOID

A kiddy tone

7–8. razred

Teen can say no; parent pays

SAY

„Napravi nešto svoje.“

AVOID

“Deca”, “škola”, cartoons

Keep it simple

One ad = one parent = one worry.

Never all three messages in one creative.

Show, don’t promise.

We have no results yet. Show kids making things, the space and the mentors, then invite to Open Day.

Target broad.

Novi Sad, parents 28–52. Let the creative pick the parent.
